Customer Code of Conduct

The Marion Campus Library and University Libraries' service values emphasize respectful human interactions and the stewardship and protection of human and information resources, as well as the system's physical facilities. We ask our patrons to support these values by demonstrating positive behaviors while using any library.

The Libraries' administration is charged with:

- Protecting the rights of individuals to use the Libraries' property, materials and services and
- the rights of Libraries employees and volunteers to conduct library business without interference;
- Keeping Libraries materials and facilities undamaged and safe from harm;
- Ensuring the safety of the Libraries' patrons, employees and volunteers.

Libraries' employees have the authority to bring inappropriate behavior, as defined by these and other rules, to the attention of the individual demonstrating such behavior. If that person will not alter his or her behavior, that individual will be asked to leave Library property. Failure to leave if asked may result in the police being called and a possible charge of criminal trespass per Section 2911.21 of the Ohio Revised Code.
